

15 DECEMBER

9:30	Registration & coffee Raadzaal
10.00	Keynote lecture Udo Pesch - TU Delft - Title TBA Chair: Vincent Cuypers Kardinaal Mercierzaal
12.00	Lunch Raadzaal
13.00	Presentations 1A: bio-ethics and law Chair: Lien de Proost Kardinaal Mercierzaal	Presentations 1B: Informatics and AI Chair: Nynke Van Uffelen Room N
13.00	Simon van der Weele - University of Humanistic Studies, Utrecht - Profound disability and the "moral status" debate: putting practice into theory	Julie Schweer - Karlsruhe Institute of Technology - How atomistic simulations contribute to scientific explanations
13:30	Samuela Marchiori - TU Delft - Interdisciplinary conceptual engineering in the philosophy of technology: bridging the gap between philosophy and the law	Lukas J. Meier - University of Cambridge - Philosophical thinking in computer science, engineering, and medicine
14.00	Caroline Bollen - TU Delft - Being denied from a concept: epistemic injustice as a motivation for conceptual engineering	Māra Grīnfelde - University of Latvia - Phenomenology's application to health care: what happens to the patient objectification in teleconsultation?
14:30	Coffee break Raadzaal
15.00	Presentations 2A: Justice and social conflict Chair: Vinsent Nollet Kardinaal Mercierzaal	Presentations 2B: Philosophy of Science and Philosophy of Biology Chair: Ana Van Liedekerke Room N
15.00	Christine Milchram and Michael Schmidt - Karlsruhe Institute of Technology - Wide Reflective Equilibrium meets social science: an approach to exploring stakeholder's conceptions of justice in smart energy systems	Yamina Venuta - Universität zu Köln - Kinds of mind. On the interdisciplinary study of consciousness in nature
15.30	Nynke Van Uffelen - TU Delft - "They changed the rules during the game": why the epistemic controversy about UGS Grijpskerk and Norg is actually about energy justice	Vincent Cuypers - KU Leuven and UHasselt - Philosophy in science: lessons from the case of biological taxonomy
16.00	Giulio Sacco - University of Turin - An Interdisciplinary Solution to the Puzzle of Recalcitrant Emotions: suggestions from philosophy, psychology and human sciences	Anton Killin - Bielefeld University - Interdisciplinary individualisation science
16.30	Reception Raadzaal

16 DECEMBER

9:00	Presentations 3A: Law and economics Chair: Vincent Cuypers Kardinaal Mercierzaal	Presentations 3B: Philosophy of interdisciplinarity; Philosophy of Literature Chair: Ana Van Liedekerke Auditorium B
9:00	Tarun Gidwani - King's College London - Should states withdraw subsidies?	John Lundy - Eastern Oregon University - The philosophical core of interdisciplinarity
9:30	Hylke Jellema - University of Groningen - Legal epistemology in the time of budget cuts	Andrej Jovicevic - KU Leuven - The interdisciplinary mathesis of Gilles Deleuze
10:00	Sonia Cruz Dávila - King's College London - Unilateral executive power: what is it and what is wrong with it?	Remo Verdickt - KU Leuven - From "Black American Socrates" to the "Digital Counterpublic": Appropriations of James Baldwin in contemporary philosophy
10:30	Tyra Lennie - McMaster University - Detained children and positive duties	Suzanne Kappé - University of Amsterdam - Morbid yet firm. Hamlet as a Hegelian skeptic
11:00	Coffee break Salons
11:30	Panel discussion The future of philosophy in interdisciplinary research Kardinaal Mercierzaal Maartje Schermer (Erasmus University Rotterdam) Erik Schokkaert (KU Leuven) Carinne Elion-Valter (Erasmus University Rotterdam) Sylvia Wenmackers (KU Leuven) Moderator: Ana Van Liedekerke Chair: Lien De Proost
13:00	End
14:30	Optional: guided walk through Leuven Start: in front of the Institute	